"When I established Delaney in 2008, our goal was to provide the very best financial leadership in the marketplace," Chilvers says. "We have grown considerably in our first year and are excited to be one of the leading independently owned firms in Georgia providing executive financial services. Our WBENC certification will give our company added value as our clients are actively engaging business partners with the WBENC certification. On behalf of our employees and associates, we remain passionately dedicated to the success of our clients and committed to the professionals we represent."

Roz Lewis, Executive Director of GWBC, commented, "We are excited to have new women-owned companies such as Delaney Consulting LLC become part of our network. Delaney is building client relations in the UK through Ms. Chilvers' board presence with the World Chamber of Commerce and British American Business Group." Ms. Lewis continued, "At the same time, GWBC can help companies such as Delaney reach their potential. Through our new alliance with WEConnect, WEConnect International and WEConnect Canada, we are helping companies create opportunities abroad."
